MEMORANDUM ON PROPOSED TARIFF LEGISLATION of the 109th Congress¹

[Date approved: September 20, 2005]²

Bill No. and sponsor: H.R. 2149 (Mr. Henry E. Brown of South Carolina)

Proponent name, location: LANXESS Corporation
Goose Creek, SC

Other bills on product (109th Congress only): None.

Nature of bill: Temporary duty suspension through December 31, 2009.

Retroactive effect: None.

Suggested article description(s) for enactment (including appropriate HTS subheading(s)):

N-Isopropyl-N'-phenyl-p-phenylenediamine (CAS No. 101-72-4) (provided for in subheading 2921.51.50)

Check one: Same as that in bill as introduced
 Different from that in bill as introduced (see Technical comments section)

Product information, including uses/applications and source(s) of imports:

N-Isopropyl-N'-phenyl-p-phenylenediamine, a synthetic organic chemical, is a staining antioxidant and antiozonant applied to various rubber products, including tires. The proponent, LANXESS, states that:³

A tariff suspension on [this product] would enable domestic rubber chemical manufacturers to compete more effectively in the global rubber market. Foreign competitors do not face tariff costs for component materials as U.S. manufacturers do. LANXESS's customers across the United States would see the benefit of this tariff suspension through cost reductions.

LANXESS further states that the company imports the product from India because it is not produced in the United States. According to another domestic source, however, the product has been imported from China in the past and could still be today. LANXESS also states that competitive products marketed in the United States are either supplied by Uniroyal/Crompton or imported, primarily from Europe.

Technical comments:⁴

The Commission suggests that the article description on page 1 of this report be used in the proposed new heading in order to provide for proper italicization in the chemical name.

⁴ The Commission may express an opinion on the HTS classification of a product to facilitate consideration of the bill. However, by law, only the U.S. Customs Service is authorized to issue a binding ruling on this matter. The Commission believes that the U.S. Customs Service should be consulted prior to enactment of the bill.
