MEMORANDUM ON PROPOSED TARIFF LEGISLATION
of the 110th Congress¹

[Date approved: September 8, 2008]²

Bill No. and sponsor: H.R. 5354 (Mr. Gary Ackerman of New York).

Proponent name,³ location: Leviton Manufacturing Company, Inc., Little Neck, NY.

Other bills on product (110th Congress only): None.

Nature of bill: Temporary duty suspension through December 31, 2011.

Retroactive effect: None.

Suggested article description(s) for enactment (including appropriate HTS subheading(s)):

Spotlights (other than hand-held), of plastics, suitable for use as theater lighting and designed to be affixed to walls, ceilings or supporting stands or beams; nightlights with manual on/off switch; or automatic rotating, light-emitting diode (LED), light-directing LED or motion-activated night lights, all the foregoing of plastics (provided for in subheading 9405.40.80).

Check one: Same as that in bill as introduced.
 Different from that in bill as introduced (see Technical comments section).

Product information, including uses/applications and source(s) of imports:

This duty suspension bill is intended to cover two types of lighting fixtures made from plastics, both classifiable in the same HTS subheading namely, certain theatrical lighting fixtures and various types of night lights. Portable spotlights, which may be hand-held or designed to be mounted on movable stands, are used by professional photographers, museums, art galleries, and other similar venues where tightly focused light is required. Such lighting is sometimes known as parabolic aluminized reflector (PAR) lighting. The lighting is also used in theaters and other venues for performing arts and to provide security-related illumination for buildings and outdoor spaces. These lighting fixtures use quartz lamps (bulbs) because of their long life and constant light output.

On/off night lights provide limited range, low wattage lighting with manual on/off switches. Light-emitting diode (LED) night lights provide constant lighting in dark areas, such as closets, bathrooms, and kitchens. Motion- or sound-activated lights provide illumination in dimly-lit areas while saving energy, USITC staff identified three additional beneficiaries of this bill that were not identified by the sponsor/proponent, and those beneficiaries submitted written representations that they would benefit from this bill.

given that they are not constantly lit. These lights can supplement security devices by providing illumination when a secure area is intruded upon at night.

China is the dominant supplier of miscellaneous electrical lighting of plastics. China accounted for 86 percent ($828 million) of total U.S. imports under HTS subheading 9405.40.80 (a broader category than is covered by this bill) and 91 percent of dutiable imports in 2007.

Estimated effect on customs revenue:

Technical comments:⁴

The proposed article description should be amended as shown on page 1 to take into account available information from the proponent. The term “theatrical lighting” lacks physical characteristics or other information that would tie it to a recognizable category of goods. Spotlights are a type of theatrical lighting fixture, but these goods may also be used to light photographic studios or other venues and they may be designed to be held or to be fixed to walls or supports. Further delineation may be needed to permit Customs to identify the goods actually of interest to the proponents, once this intent is clarified further. In addition, Chris Schodowki, Division Controller-Mexican Operations and Import/Export for the proponent, confirmed by e-mail on May 22, 2008, that the term “night light” was intended to be used in the legislation to describe the types of non-theatrical lighting to be covered by the bill rather than the term “spotlights.” Consequently, the term “night lights” should be substituted for the term “spotlights” in the second portion of the proposed article description.

⁴ The Commission may express an opinion on the HTS classification of a product to facilitate consideration of the bill. However, by law, only the U.S. Customs Service is authorized to issue a binding ruling on this matter. The Commission believes that the U.S. Customs Service should be consulted prior to enactment of the bill.

110TH CONGRESS
2D SESSION

H. R. 5354

To suspend temporarily the duty on certain theatrical lighting fixtures.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

FEBRUARY 12, 2008

Mr. ACKERMAN introduced the following bill; which was referred to the
