Check one: Same as that in bill as introduced.
 Different from that in bill as introduced (see Technical comments section).

Product information, including uses/applications and source(s) of imports:

The subject bags are principally used to carry food or beverages purchased in retail stores, especially grocery stores, supermarkets, and pharmacies. These bags are designed for long-term or repeated use.

Domestic demand for these reusable bags has increased in response to environmental awareness and concerns. However, according to the proponent, demand is expected to decrease significantly over the next five years due to a weak economy and the extended life of these reusable bags. The bags are produced in and imported from China.

Technical comments:⁴

The Commission staff suggests that, as shown on page 1 of this report, the proposed article description be amended by deleting the phrase “grams per square meter” and inserting the symbol “g/m²” in lieu thereof.

⁴ The Commission may express an opinion on the HTS classification of a product to facilitate consideration of the bill. However, by law, only the U.S. Customs Service is authorized to issue a binding ruling on this matter. The Commission believes that the U.S. Customs Service should be consulted prior to enactment of the bill.

Subject: RE: Import Information Request

1. Dear Donald,

I apologize for not having replied to you earlier but I have been travelling extensively the past three weeks and had not had an opportunity to sit down and study the details. After reviewing, this is our position:

Firstly, we confirm that the products we and our competitors import conform to the technical requirements in S2151 and S2153. Essentially, both of these items are the same and differ only in minor respects; in the case of S2151 the outer surface is made of nonwoven polypropylene and the inner fabric is an insulation material for keeping the contents hot or cold. This item is currently imported under HTS code 4202920807, which carries an import duty of 7% unlike the items which are made wholly from nonwoven polypropylene which carry a duty of 17.6%.

Secondly, it is our understanding from our previous communication with yourself and the U.S. Customs office that any reduction in revenue in excess of $500,000 per annum would not be considered under the proposed legislation. The total amount of duty that the government will forego as a passage of these bills will far exceed $500,000. Earthwise alone paid in excess of $2 million in import duty in 2009.

Thirdly, we have recently started producing reusable shopping bags in Mexico, which enter the U.S. under NAFTA rules with no duty and we expect to expand our production this year.

With regard to Bill S2152, which covers bags made from cotton, the import duty on this item is only 6.3% and at this time there is some domestic production in this category.

In view of all the above, we would be opposed at this time to any duty reduction or suspension as proposed in these bills. Should you require any further information, I would be happy to provide it to you.

Thanking you,

Stanley Joffe
