In the Matter of

CERTAIN AUDIO PLAYERS AND CONTROLLERS, COMPONENTS
THEREOF, AND PRODUCTS
CONTAINING THE SAME

Investigation No. 337-TA-1191

LIMITED EXCLUSION ORDER

The United States International Trade Commission (“Commission”) has determined that there is a violation of section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. § 1337), in the unlawful importation, sale for importation, or sale within the United States after importation by respondent Google LLC (“Respondent”) of certain audio players and controllers, components thereof, and products containing the same (as defined in paragraph 2 below) that infringe one or more of claims 17, 21, 24, and 26 of U.S. Patent No. 9,195,258 (“the ’258 patent”); claims 7, 14, and 22-24 of U.S. Patent No. 10,209,953 (“the ’953 patent”); claim 10 of U.S. Patent No. 9,219,959 (“the ’959 patent”); claims 1, 2, and 5 of U.S. Patent No. 8,588,949 (“the ’949 patent”); and claims 1, 5, 6, and 12 of U.S. Patent No. 10,439,896 (“the ’896 patent”) (collectively, the “Asserted Patents”).

Having reviewed the record in this investigation, including the written submissions of the parties, the Commission has made its determinations on the issues of remedy, the public interest, and bonding. The Commission has determined that the appropriate form of relief includes a limited exclusion order prohibiting the unlicensed entry into the United States of infringing audio players and controllers, components thereof, and products containing the same manufactured by or on behalf of Respondent or any of its affiliated companies, parents, subsidiaries, agents, or other related business entities, or its successors or assigns.

The Commission has also determined that the public interest factors enumerated in 19 U.S.C. § 1337(d) do not preclude the issuance of the limited exclusion order, and that the bond during the period of Presidential review shall be in the amount of 100 percent of the entered value of the articles subject to this Order.

Accordingly, the Commission hereby ORDERS that:

1. Audio players and controllers, components thereof, and products containing the same that infringe one or more of claims 17, 21, 24, and 26 of the '258 patent; claims 7, 14, and 22-24 of the '953 patent; claim 10 of the '959 patent; claims 1, 2, and 5 of the '949 patent; and claims 1, 5, 6, and 12 of the '896 patent and are manufactured abroad by or on behalf of, or imported by or on behalf of Respondent or any of its affiliated companies, parents, subsidiaries, agents, or other related business entities, or its successors or assigns, are excluded from entry for consumption into the United States, entry for consumption from a foreign-trade zone, or withdrawal from a warehouse for consumption, for the remaining terms of the Asserted Patents, except under license from, or with the permission of, the patent owner or as provided by law.

2. The audio players and controllers, components thereof, and products containing the same that are subject to this Order (the "covered articles") are as follows: networked speaker devices and devices (for example, mobile phones and laptops) capable of controlling these devices that incorporate the infringing technology. Covered articles shall not include the Google redesign products that were adjudicated in this investigation and found to be non-infringing (i.e., (i) as to the '258 patent, the redesign '258 NIA No. 1; (ii) as to the '953 patent, the redesign '953 NIA No. 1; (iii) as to the '959 patent, the redesign '959 NIA No. 4; (iv) as to the '949 patent, the redesigns submitted for adjudication by Google with respect to the '949 patent; and (v) as to the '896 patent, the redesign '896 NIA No. 2).

3. Notwithstanding paragraph 1 of this Order, covered articles are entitled to entry into the United States for consumption, entry for consumption from a foreign-trade zone, or withdrawal from a warehouse for consumption, under bond in the amount of 100 percent of their entered value, pursuant to 19 U.S.C. § 1337(j) and the Presidential Memorandum for the United States Trade Representative of July 21, 2005 (70 Fed. Reg. 43,251), from the day after this Order is received by the United States Trade Representative until such time as the United States Trade Representative notifies the Commission that this Order is approved or disapproved but, in any event, not later than sixty (60) days after the receipt of this Order. All entries of covered articles made pursuant to this paragraph are to be reported to U.S. Customs and Border Protection (“CBP”), in advance of the date of the entry, pursuant to procedures CBP establishes.

4. At the discretion of CBP and pursuant to the procedures it establishes, persons seeking to import audio players and controllers, components thereof, and products containing the same that are potentially subject to this Order may be required to certify that they are familiar with the terms of this Order, that they have made appropriate inquiry, and thereupon state that, to the best of their knowledge and belief, the products being imported are not excluded from entry under paragraph 1 of this Order, including because the products incorporate the features or functionalities of a redesigned product adjudicated by the Commission in the violation investigation not to infringe, and thus such products do not fall within the scope of this Order. At its discretion, CBP may require persons who have provided the certification described in this paragraph to furnish such records or analyses as are necessary to substantiate the certification.

5. In accordance with 19 U.S.C. § 1337(l), the provisions of this Order shall not apply to covered articles that are imported by and for the use of the United States, or imported for, and to be used for, the United States with the authorization or consent of the Government.

6. The Commission may modify this Order in accordance with the procedures described in Rule 210.76 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (19 C.F.R. § 210.76).

7. The Secretary shall serve copies of this Order upon each party of record in this investigation and upon CBP.

8. Notice of this Order shall be published in the Federal Register.

By order of the Commission.
