PREFACE

On January 13, 1984, at the request of the Chairman of the Committee on Finance, U.S. Senate, and in accordance with the provisions of section 332(b) of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1332(b)), the United States International Trade Commission instituted investigation No. 332-175, Rum: Annual Report on Selected Economic Indicators. The purpose of the report is to gather and compile data on the rum industry from public sources and report such data to the Committee on an annual basis.

The report, as requested by the Finance Committee, contains the following statistical information on rum: (1) U.S. production; (2) U.S. exports; (3) U.S. imports for consumption (total and by countries designated as eligible for the Caribbean Basin Initiative (CBI)); (4) apparent U.S. consumption; and (5) shipments from Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands to the United States. Further, the report shows imports under new statistical categories as provided for in the Tariff Schedules of the United States under item 169.14 (i.e., new categories for rum valued at not over $2 per proof gallon, at between $2.00 and $3.50 per proof gallon, and at $3.50 or more per proof gallon) as requested by the Committee.

The first annual report covers 1983 and 1984. Subsequent reports will be issued on a calendar basis as long as rum is accorded duty-free treatment pursuant to the Caribbean Basin Economic Recovery Act; the next report covering calendar year 1985 will be issued in May 1986.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by a valid receipt or invoice. This not only helps in tracking expenses but also ensures compliance with tax regulations.

In the second section, the author provides a detailed breakdown of the monthly budget. It includes categories for housing, utilities, food, transportation, and entertainment. Each category is further divided into sub-items, such as rent, electricity, groceries, fuel, and dining out. This level of detail allows for a clear understanding of where the money is being spent.

The third part of the document focuses on the analysis of the budget. It compares the actual spending against the planned budget for each category. This comparison helps in identifying areas where spending has exceeded the budget and where it has remained within the limits.

Finally, the document concludes with a summary of the overall financial performance. It highlights the total amount spent and compares it to the total budget. The author also provides some recommendations for future budgeting, such as setting aside a contingency fund for unexpected expenses and reviewing the budget regularly to make adjustments as needed.

HIGHLIGHTS

The following are highlights of the economic data collected on rum for 1983 and 1984.

- o For 1984, U.S. production of rum amounted to 27.2 million proof gallons, up 5.5 percent from the level of the comparable period of 1983.
- o U.S. exports of rum declined by 17 percent during the 2 years but the value of such exports rose from $1.9 million to $2.0 million.
- o For 1984, imports of rum amounted to 5.8 million proof gallons, valued at $34.9 million, compared with 1.3 million proof gallons, valued at $6.6 million, in 1983. The majority of the increase in imports in 1984, which came mostly from Jamaica, occurred in May and was the result of the transfer of major quantities of bulk rum from Customs bond to Treasury bond.
- o Rum imports from CBI eligible countries accounted for 98 percent of the value of total rum imports during 1984, and rum imports from Jamaica made-up 94 percent of the total value of U.S. rum imports from CBI countries. During 1983, CBI countries supplied 88 percent of the total imports, and Jamaica accounted for 69 percent of the imports from CBI countries.
- o Apparent U.S. consumption of rum in 1984 amounted to 29.9 million proof gallons, 22 percent higher than in 1983.
- o Rum shipments from Puerto Rico to the United States declined from 23.3 million proof gallons in 1983 to 19.4 million proof gallons in 1984. During the same 2 years, rum shipments from the U.S. Virgin Islands to the United States declined from 2.9 million proof gallons to 2.3 million proof gallons.

Value is estimated from the average value of bottled rum shipped to the United States from Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

<sup>3/</sup> The majority of the increase in imports was the result of a major distiller transferring bulk rum from Custom's bond to Treasury bond in May 1984.
