On February 28, 2017, the ALJ issued an ID (Order No. 8) terminating the investigation as to Global Box based on the settlement agreement, consent order stipulation and a joint proposed consent order. The ALJ found that the consent order stipulation complied with the rules and that the parties represented that "there are no other agreements, written or oral, express or implied between the parties concerning the subject matter of the investigation." The ALJ also found that the joint proposed consent order complies with Commission Rule 210.21(c)(4). Similarly, the ALJ found that the settlement agreement complied with Commission Rule 210.21(b). Finally, the ALJ found termination of the investigation does not impose any "undue burden on the public health and welfare, competitive conditions in the United States economy, production of like or directly competitive articles in the United States, or United States consumers." No one petitioned for review.

The Commission has determined not to review the subject ID and has issued the consent order. The Commission has terminated Global Box from the investigation.
