ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given that the U.S. International Trade Commission (“the Commission”) has determined to extend the date for determining whether to review a final initial determination (“ID”) of the presiding administrative law judge (“ALJ”) finding a violation of section 337 to June 24, 2019.

of Baden-Wuertemberg, Germany; Bosch Automotive Products (Suzhou) Co., Ltd. of Jiangsu, China; and Hon Hai Precision Industry Co., Ltd. of New Taipei City, Taiwan (collectively, “the non-importing respondents”); Robert Bosch LLC of Broadview, Illinois; Robert Bosch, Sistemas Automatrices, S.A. de C.V. of Chihuahua, Mexico; Foxconn Interconnect Technology, Ltd. of New Taipei City, Taiwan (collectively, “the remaining respondents”); and Robert Bosch, Ltda. (“Bosch Brazil”) of Sao Paulo, Brazil. The Office of Unfair Import Investigations is not participating in the investigation. Bosch Brazil has been terminated from the investigation. See Order No. 68 (November 8, 2018), unreviewed by Comm’n Notice (December 3, 2018). Two IDs granting respondents’ motions for summary determination of invalidity of one or more asserted claims of the ’766 patent due to indefiniteness have been reversed by the Commission. See Order No. 24 (October 16, 2017), reversed by Comm’n Notice (March 26, 2018); Order No. 30 (May 18, 2018), reversed by Comm’n Notice (July 24, 2018).

On April 12, 2019, the ALJ issued his final ID finding a violation of section 337. The ID finds that the non-importing respondents do not satisfy the importation requirement of section 337(a)(1)(B). The ID further finds that the remaining respondents’ accused products infringe asserted claims 2, 4, and 9-10 of the ’766 patent. The ID also finds that the asserted claims are not invalid under 35 USC 102, 103. In addition, the ID finds that JST satisfied both prongs of the domestic industry requirement with respect to the ’766 patent. In the same document, the ALJ recommended that if the Commission finds a violation it should issue a limited exclusion order directed to respondents’ infringing products and no cease and desist orders.

On April 29, 2019, respondents petitioned, and JST contingently petitioned, for review of the final ID. On May 7, 2019, JST and respondents each filed a response in opposition to the other party’s petition for review.

The Commission has determined to extend the date for determining whether to review the final ID to June 24, 2019.

By order of the Commission.

Secretary to the Commission
