CHARME IN DEFAULT

AGENCY: U.S. International Trade Commission.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given that the U.S. International Trade Commission (“Commission”) has determined not to review an initial determination (“ID”) (Order No. 26) of the presiding administrative law judge (“ALJ”), finding respondents Shanghai Yuanhuai Industries Co., Ltd. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Commission instituted this investigation on May 4, 2022. 87 FR 26372 (May 4, 2022). The complaint, as supplemented, alleged violations of section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, 19 U.S.C. 1337, in the importation into the United States, the sale for importation, or the sale within the United States after importation of certain centrifuge utility platform and falling film evaporator systems and components thereof by reason of infringement of claims 1, 10, and 14 of U.S. Patent No. 10,814,338; claims 1, 10, and 18 of U.S. Patent No. 11,014,098; and claims 1, 9, and 19 of U.S. Patent No. 10,899,728. Id. The complaint further alleged that a domestic industry exists. Id. The Commission’s notice of investigation named fifteen respondents, including Shanghai Yuanhai of Shanghai City, China and Charme of Suzhou Shi, China. Id. at 26373. The Office of Unfair Import Investigations is also participating in the investigation. Id.

On July 5, 2022, complainant Apeks, LLC (“Apeks”) moved the ALJ for an order directing Shanghai Yuanhai and Charme to show cause why they should not be found in default for failure to respond to the complaint and notice of investigation or otherwise participate in this investigation. On July 18, 2022, the ALJ issued Order No. 19, granting the motion and ordering Shanghai Yuanhai and Charme to show cause why they should not be found in default. Order No. 19 found that Shanghai Yuanhai and Charme received notice of the complaint and notice of the investigation based on proofs of service attached as an exhibit to Apeks’s motion.

On July 29, 2022, the ALJ issued Order No. 26, the subject ID, which finds Shanghai Yuanhai and Charme in default. The ID finds that service of the complaint and notice of investigation on Shanghai Yuanhai and Charme was effected on June 1, 2022. The ID finds that neither Shanghai Yuanhai nor Charme answered the complaint and notice of investigation or responded to Order No. 19. No petitions for review of the ID were filed.

The Commission has determined not to review the subject ID.

Shanghai Yuanhai and Charme are in default and have therefore waived their rights to appear, to be served with documents, and to contest the allegations at issue in this investigation.

The Commission vote for this determination took place on August 29, 2022.

The authority for the Commission’s determination is contained in section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1337), and in Part 210 of the Commission’s Rules of Practice and Procedure (19 CFR Part 210).

While temporary remote operating procedures are in place in response to COVID-19, the Office of the Secretary is not able to serve parties that have not retained counsel or otherwise provided a point of contact for electronic service. Accordingly, pursuant to Commission Rules 201.16(a) and 210.7(a)(1) (19 CFR 201.16(a), 210.7(a)(1)), the Commission orders that the Complainant(s) complete service for any party/parties without a method of electronic service noted on the attached Certificate of Service and shall file proof of service on the Electronic Document Information System (EDIS).

By order of the Commission.

Katherine M. Hiner
Acting Secretary to the Commission
