regarding general questions and trade and related information

GENERAL INFORMATION

Why You Are Being Asked to Complete This Questionnaire

The United States International Trade Commission, an independent, quasi-judicial federal agency, has been requested by petitioning U.S. firms to determine whether an industry in the United States is being materially injured or threatened with material injury by reason of unfair imports from China of wooden bedroom furniture. In order for the Commission to make its determinations, it is collecting certain production, capacity, shipment, inventory, financial, market, pricing, and other data from U.S. producers, importers, and purchasers.

Why Your Questionnaire Response Is Important

Your completed questionnaire response is extremely important because it is the foundation on which the Commission will base its determinations. These industry questionnaires are the single best sources of comprehensive and current industry data. Your response will be treated as confidential business proprietary information. As such, it will not be disclosed to any competitors or other market participants. There are strict legal safeguards in place to protect and prevent the potential misuse of any confidential information you may submit.

Who Initiates Antidumping Investigations

Petitions are filed with the Commission and the United States Department of Commerce by U.S. companies on behalf of a particular industry. The purpose of a petition is to request that the federal government initiate an investigation into whether antidumping duties should be imposed on unfairly traded imports.

The Role of the Commission in Antidumping Investigations

As mentioned, antidumping investigations involve two separate federal agencies--the Commission and Commerce. Both agencies make separate, distinct, and independent determinations. Commerce is responsible for examining whether the identified imports are being sold in the United States at less than fair value. The Commission is not involved in this aspect of an investigation, but is responsible for examining whether a U.S. industry producing products like such imports is materially injured or threatened with material injury by reason of the unfairly traded imports. Affirmative determinations must be made by both agencies in order for antidumping duties to be imposed.

Time Frame in Which Antidumping Determinations are Made

The next key decision date in this investigation is the Department of Commerce’s final determination which is scheduled to be issued on November 8, 2004. The Commission is scheduled to hold a public hearing on November 9, 2004, and to make its final determination by December 22, 2004.

Background

This investigation was instituted in response to a petition filed on October 31, 2003, by the American Furniture Manufacturers Committee For Legal Trade, Washington, DC, and its individual members, and the Cabinet Makers, Millmen, and Industrial Carpenters Local 721, Whittier, CA. Definitive antidumping duties may be assessed on the subject imports as a result of this investigation if the Commission makes an affirmative determination of injury, threat, or material retardation, and if the U.S. Department of Commerce makes an affirmative determination of dumping.

This means that certain lawyers and other authorized individuals may temporarily be given access to the information for use in connection with this investigation or other import-injury investigations conducted by the Commission on the same or similar merchandise; those individuals would be subject to severe penalties if the information were divulged to unauthorized individuals. In addition, if your firm is a U.S. producer, the information you provide on your production and imports of wooden bedroom furniture and your responses to the questions in Part I of the producer questionnaire will be provided to the U.S. Department of Commerce, upon its request, for use in connection with (and only in connection with) its requirement pursuant to section 732(c)(4) of the Act (19 U.S.C. § 1673a(c)(4)) to make a determination concerning the extent of industry support for the petition requesting this investigation. Any information provided to Commerce will be transmitted under the confidentiality and release guidelines set forth above. Your response to these questions constitutes your consent that such information would be provided to Commerce under the conditions described above.

INSTRUCTIONS*Answer all questions
