Product information, including uses/applications and source(s) of imports:

Wing illumination lights are small lights located on each wingtip of an aircraft, consisting of one red light on the left wingtip and one green light on the right wingtip. Their primary purpose is to indicate to other aircraft and air traffic control systems the direction in which the aircraft is traveling. Wing illumination lights are used to improve aircraft visibility and to assist in determining the degree of ice formation on the wings in winter weather conditions. The principal import source of these aircraft wing illumination lights is Canada.

Estimated effect on customs revenue:

Technical comments:

It is suggested that the article description on page 1 of this report be used in the proposed new heading to provide the correct HTS subheading reference (9405.60.40) and to make it clear that the goods are for aircraft use.

3 The Commission may express an opinion on the HTS classification of a product to facilitate consideration of the bill. However, by law, only the U.S. Customs Service is authorized to issue a binding ruling on this matter. The Commission believes that the U.S. Customs Service should be consulted prior to enactment of the bill.
